SITE

The Petit Clos, a historic 4.5-hectare walled vineyard, was once the private garden of the 1st Marquis de Las Cases. It lies adjacent to his chateau at the gateway to the village of Saint-Julien. A larger vineyard extends outwards on the appellation's famous plateau to the west of the route de Pauillac, bordering Pichon Baron to the north.

SOILS

The Petit Clos recalls the heart of the Grand Enclos de Las Cases, with large galets scattered over a vein of clay. In contrast, the previously-forested plateau offers a rich topsoil set upon a foundation of clayey gravel.
